

Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design

An important learning opportunity in CPTED

COURSE DESIGN

This introductory level CPTED course will provide the learner with an in-depth introduction into CPTED theory, principles and strategies. It will also present the participant with a number of practical exercises to put theory into practice.

- Commonly known as CPTED, a pro-active crime prevention strategy used by planners, architects, police services, retailers, and others.
- CPTED adopts the principle that proper design and effective use of the built environment can lead to a reduction in the incidence and fear of crime and improve the quality of life
- Emphasis is placed on the physical environment, productive use of space, and behaviour of people to create environments that are absent of environmental cues that cause opportunities for crime to occur.

The Owen Sound Police Service is pleased to announce an Introduction to CPTED course coming to their location this spring.

Comprehensive course outlines are available by contacting Sgt. Ted Kitto at the following:

Instructor Tom McKay, Canada's foremost CPTED Instructor will facilitate the course. Tom is the author of numerous published articles on CPTED, the founding Chair of CPTED Ontario, and the recipient of the prestigious Herman Goldstein Excellence in Problem Solving award by the Police Executive Research Forum in Washington, D.C., an organization that has recognized Tom as an expert on the subject of CPTED. Tom is a constable with the Peel Regional Police Service with over 20 years experience.
